Re: Extension Request for Comments on the Revised
Comparative Ecological Risk Assessment; OPP-2004-0033

Dear Debbie,

The National Pest Management Association (NPMA) requests an extension of time to comment on the revised comparative ecological risk assessment and other documents for nine rodenticides that the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) made available on September 22, 2004. Comment is now due on November 22, 2004.

Additional time is needed for NPMA to have an adequate opportunity to comment. The time is necessary to allow an adequate review of the revised comparative ecological risk assessment, which is lengthy and very detailed. NPMA also believes additional time will enhance its ability to provide useful comments to EPA.

Sincerely,

Robert M. Rosenberg
Vice President of Government Affairs
